I am Evangelina Cavanna, a graduate in Social Work specialized in Restorative Justice and Mediation of Criminal Conflicts. My career has focused on promoting and applying restorative justice principles in community and criminal justice contexts, working with diverse populations to facilitate conflict resolution and promote social integration.

Alternate Board Member of SAJuR. Founding Member.

Education

- Degree in Social Work, Universidad Nacional de Lanús (2017).
- Specialization in Community Approaches to Social Issues and Public Policy, Universidad Nacional de Lanús (2018).
- Postgraduate degree in Basic Mediation, Universidad de Buenos Aires (2022).
- Postgraduate degree in Restorative Practices and Mediation of Criminal Conflicts, Universidad de Buenos Aires (2021).

Professional Experience

I am currently part of the Specialized Restorative Justice Team at the National Secretariat for Children, Adolescents, and Families, where I help develop public policies, action protocols, and implementation guidelines. I also develop theoretical materials, training programs, and outreach materials on the subject.

Background in Social and Human Rights Organizations

- CORREPI (Coordinadora Contra la Represión Policial e Institucional) (2008-2010).

- AEDD (Asociación de ex Detenidos Desaparecidos) (2010 - present): support work in crimes-against-humanity trials.

Philosophy and Approach

My professional approach is grounded in restorative justice, seeking to transform relationships through dialogue, repair of harm, and social integration. I believe in the power of community and cooperation to build a more just and equitable society.
